

Race in Hopkins...

*...with Hopkins Public Schools Students and Superintendent
Dr. Rhoda Mhiripiri-Reed*

Thursday, May 17
6:30 - 8:30 p.m.
Hopkins High School Cafeteria

Listen to high school students talk about their experiences living and learning in a diverse community and school.

What skills and knowledge will students need to navigate the changing nature of work?

Innovation, breakthroughs and creative problem solving will increasingly require diverse contributions and approaches.

What are the responsibilities of adults and the community to model support for young people?

Learn and practice new language that helps us all grow our proficiency around issues of race and equity.
