

Let's Talk About...

Civility in Hopkins

Your Voice Matters! A Conversation on Civility

Thursday, November 29 • 6:30 - 8 p.m.
Hopkins High School

Hear from three globally-known panelists from diverse backgrounds to come to a better understanding of what civility means.

Sophia Kahn

Sophia Kahn joined Medtronic in April 2016 and currently leads the development of strategies for inclusion, diversity, and employee engagement. In collaboration with HR and business leaders, she is responsible for ensuring an integrated approach to building a diverse talent pipeline and engaging our global workforce.

Dr. Harold Massey

Dr. Harold Massey is a clinically-certified behavioral scientist and consultant with global experience in over 28 nations. Specializing in leadership coaching, organizational intervention and cross-cultural dynamics, Dr. Massey has served a wide variety of leaders in non-profit and entrepreneurial enterprises as well as Fortune 500 corporations.

Karon Cunningham

Karon Cunningham is the principal of Franklin Middle School in the Minneapolis Public School District. Karon has served students, families and the Minneapolis community for 25 years; the last 15 years as a principal.

Karon holds a Bachelor of Social Work and a Master of Social Work from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She also holds a Master of Educational Leadership (K-12) from the University of St. Mary's in Minneapolis.

William W. Wells Jr. – Moderator

Bill Wells is president of W. Wells & Associates, LLC, a management consulting firm. In his work, Bill focuses on organizational cultures and human capital issues with an emphasis on creating a vision focused on advancing diversity, inclusion, equity, culture change and transformation.

Sponsored by the Hopkins Race and Equity Initiative

Hopkins Public Schools • City of Hopkins

Hopkins Police Department • Gethsemane Lutheran Church

www.hopkinsmn.com/516/Hopkins-Race-Equity-Initiative